Subject: Thank you, again...

Natalie and Tarek:

Once again, thank you very much for having us for dinner, even more so, thank you for your company and your support.

I am off here shortly to go over to the office to collect some personal items and other documents. I would like to meet again soon and discuss our possibilities, perhaps over a little less alcohol. :)

There are a couple of accounts that I would like to try and snag and the window of opportunity will be only open for a brief time. I can either forward them to you or if you could make me an adrienne@loq.... I can correspond with the potential clients that way. I do not need a password or anything, Natalie, I can tell you what to write and we can try and get them that way. There are two that I would like to send e-mails to before the weekend is over.

Let me know your thoughts, you can reach me any time today via cell and again thank you for everything.

Adrienne
